IMPORTANT INFORMATION – please review while you wait for the day to start

- Your feedback is important in reporting to our stakeholders. A survey is included in the folder provided as well as available electronically using the QR code on the agenda. Please evaluate each part of the day as it finishes and return/submit before you leave.
- Please silence your cell phones during opening remarks, the keynote lecture, workshops, and career panel.
- Just a reminder as per the media release form you submitted, it is your responsibility to avoid cameras if you do not wish to have your picture taken or used in any promotional material.
- Volunteers will guide you to your workshops. Workshop dispersal will begin at the times indicated on your agenda. It is your responsibility to be in the main theatre at these times, so you do not miss the call for your workshop. Groups will be called one at a time by workshop code, in no particular order, as guides arrive.
- For safety reasons, please follow the instructions of presenters and volunteers carefully. Ask questions. Have an open mind. Discovering what you don't like is just as important as discovering what you do like.
- Keep your belongings with you at all times. There are no secure storage areas.
- Teachers are asked to please observe workshops only, unless otherwise invited by the presenters to take part.
- Let's get social! If possible, we encourage you to post on TWITTER or INSTAGRAM about the event at appropriate times using handles noted on the front. Be sure to include @CdnMedHallFame!
- The "Health Pros Tell All" panel discussion concludes our day. Panellists will share stories of their academic and professional careers, after which the moderator will invite you to ask questions. Today we welcome the following speakers:

Thank you for exploring your career options in the health sciences!

Remember to give us your feedback!
