

Canadian Medical Hall of Fame
Temple de la renommée
médicale canadienne

-  Honouring Excellence
-  Preserving History
-  Connecting Generations

Dr. Allan Ronald

Dr. Cheryl Rockman-Greenberg

Find the last names of local laureates

M O A Q N V R Q M B U I V N Q
 K G P D Y U G A I K D B X W D
 Q R Y C O G N G P D O G R K X
 D E H W O S E Q N O T R O W S
 H E F H H L C V L B P L M S M
 A N K P O Q C H O W N A O T P
 L B B W I T N Q P K A M S X E
 L E I P K R A H N E S E I R F
 A R Q R F O N O B T V N B K F
 N G A Q D N N L Q Q R K E R G
 T T Z J I A E L K K U C R A H
 Z L W K C L L E O Q D I G M L
 R O Z R E D C N C I V T E I S
 B M L B W T A B L G O O R A N
 O A K Y C Y M E P F G A X N U
 S I M O N S Z R O Y S K R I D
 C W T V O V H G A W E T I K I

BERGER, Dr. Philip: Advocated and founded organizations for HIV care, victims of torture, and refugee care; obtained undergraduate degree and MD from University of Manitoba

BIGELOW, Dr. Wilfred: His hypothermia research revolutionized heart surgery and led to the development of the pacemaker; born in Brandon, Manitoba.

CHOWN, Dr. Bruce: His work led to the successful treatment of Rh disease, a condition caused by an incompatibility between the blood of a mother and the developing fetus; obtained MD from University of Manitoba and later became Director of Rh Laboratory in Winnipeg.

DHALA, Dr. Naranjan: Internationally recognized builder of cardiovascular science in Canada; committed to ensuring benefits of scientific knowledge are shared worldwide.

DIRKS, Dr. John: Transformed the Gairdner Awards into prestigious international research prize; obtained MD from University of Manitoba.

FRIESEN, Dr. Henry: His research on human growth hormone (HGH) allowed successful replacement therapy in HGH-deficient children; obtained MD from University of Manitoba.

GREENBERG, Dr. Cheryl: devoted career to bringing medical knowledge and care to isolated Indigenous populations; Distinguished Professor of the University of Manitoba.

HOGG, Dr. James: Has given 40 years of contributions to the world's understanding of lung disease; obtained MD from University of Manitoba.

HOLLENBERG, Dr. Charles: Actively promoted the growth of scientific medicine at Montreal General Hospital and University of Toronto; obtained MD from University of Manitoba.

MACLENNAN, Dr. David: Did extensive work on calcium channels and pumps, and how mutations in these proteins can cause inherited muscle diseases; studied at University of Manitoba during his undergraduate years.

NAIMARK, Dr. Arnold: Revolutionized University of Manitoba medical programs; obtained MD from University of Manitoba and served as Dean of Medicine from 1971 to 1981 and President of the University of Manitoba from 1981 to 1996.

RONALD, Dr. Allan: Internationally recognized as a trailblazing expert in infectious disease, he has assisted in providing thousands of Africans with antiretroviral therapy and training in HIV care.

SIMONS, Dr. F. Estelle: Founder of Allergy & Clinical Immunology in the Department of Pediatrics, University of Manitoba; internationally renowned for pharmacologic management of allergic diseases, including anaphylaxis and asthma.

WORTON, Dr. Ronald: Identified the dystrophin gene mutation leading to Duchenne muscular dystrophy; obtained MSc from the University of Manitoba.